

polyurethane range

... chairs for work

At Oxford Seating we design and manufacture chairs for all aspects of our working lives.

Throughout our distributor network in the UK and continental Europe, we provide seating solutions to customers in many different industries; from corporate business to pharmaceutical and electronics manufacturing; to laboratory, hospital, and other healthcare establishments and also educational, industrial and retail environments.

Oxford Seating offers one of the most comprehensive ranges of polyurethane chairs available providing robust, comfortable and cleanable solutions for the widest of applications. We also have ESD/Antistatic versions available for electronics environments and chrome/polished aluminium finishes which enhance the sense of hygiene for healthcare and laboratory areas.

Our range offers Opus, a sculpted design together with a sit-stand perch and accompanying stool.

The e.PU an economic solution, which has the added benefit of a folding back bar version for retail and educational environments. The Isis IV an excellent laboratory or general stool.

polyurethane range

... chairs for work

Fast Track service available

Industrial, Healthcare & Laboratory

ESD & ESD Cleanroom

If you think polyurethane seating may provide a solution for your seating application then contact your approved Oxford Seating distributor now.

Approved Distributor: