

SIDE ACCESS RACKS

Side Opening Horizontal units also known as side access racks, fit onto shelves of upright freezers to hold cryoboxes or microtiter plates. Side access racks feature a handle on one end to remove it from the freezer, these racks are best suited for longer term storage. Side access racks are manufactured from aluminium or stainless steel. Side access racks can be any size to meet the requirements of the user. They can also feature a locking rod to hold items in place, and have a handle fitted to the top to make the unit easier to transport.
